Group registration is open to both women and men.

Description:

C. G. Jung was an influential psychologist who lived in Zurich at the turn of the 20th century. A contemporary of Sigmund Freud, he is considered one of the founding fathers of modern psychology. Jung's theories regarding personality, and the structure and function of the psyche, are called analytic psychology. This course is an introduction to his ideas as they apply to dream interpretation. The format is lecture and discussion. It is geared toward individuals with little or no familiarity with Jungian dream interpretation

Topics Include:

- History of Dreams
- Dream Structure
- Symbols in Dreams
- Healing and Dreams

Course handouts summarizing the material will be provided.
