TENURE-TRACK
ASSISTANT or ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR of COMPUTER SCIENCE

Join a vibrant campus community whose excellence is reflected in its diversity and student success. West Chester University of Pennsylvania's Department of Computer Science (http://www.cs.wcupa.edu/) invites applicants for a Tenure-Track Assistant Professor or Tenure-Track Associate Professor position, to begin in August 2018. Actual starting salary and rank is commensurate with experience.

The Computer Science Department values faculty who balance excellent teaching with active scholarship. Responsibilities include teaching courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels, advising students, conducting research, and participating in academic and professional service activities. The normal teaching load is four classes per semester. Candidates should be able to teach a wide variety of undergraduate courses for the Computer Science major and graduate courses in their area(s) of expertise.

The Computer Science Department is accredited by ABET and recognized by the NSA as one of the national centers of Academic Excellence in Information Assurance.

West Chester University's College of The Sciences and Mathematics offers eight accredited programs to 3,215 students enrolled in undergraduate and graduate degree programs.

It is preferred candidates have a Ph.D. or terminal degree in computer science or a related field at the time of appointment, as well as a commitment to excellence in teaching and a strong, demonstrated research record appropriate with West Chester University's scholarly academic standards.

Strong candidates from all areas will be considered. Preference will be given to those applicants with teaching experience and a background in one of Operating Systems, Algorithms, Architecture, Theory, and Big Data.

The Search Committee will accept confidential applications and nominations until the position is filled. Screening of candidates will begin immediately. For best consideration, applications and nominations should be provided before March 12, 2018. Candidates should submit an application letter indicating your interests and suitability, curriculum vitae, a statement of research interests, a statement of teaching philosophy, and unofficial academic transcripts (official graduate transcripts would be required later for finalists). Include email addresses for three referees when applying. Individuals wishing to place names in nomination should submit a letter of nomination, including the name, position, address and telephone number of the nominee. Greenwood/Asher & Associates, Inc., an executive search firm, is assisting the University in the search.

Applications and letters of nominations should be submitted to:
